GOLDEN state

Whether deployed in a single wash of colour or applied more sparingly, peach and apricot tones suffuse a space with an inviting glow. In a project by Prospect Refuge Studio (left), a shallow 'Burleson' basin from Signature Hardware nestles in a recess decorated in Benjamin Moore's 'Acorn Yellow', 'Dark Mustard' and 'Racing Orange' paints (prospectrefugestudio.com). A shower room in Madrid (opposite page) designed by Spanish studio Plutarco adds terrazzo flecked with sunny tones for a joyful effect (plutarco.design). And in a NoHo apartment designed by Home Studios (below), a curving panel of toffee-coloured mosaic tiles brings warmth to an airy bathroom (homestudios.nyc). ➤

ARTIST'S impression

Bespoke design is the ultimate luxury, which is why murals are increasingly popular in homes and are now finding their way into bathrooms. This look is all about breaking boundaries, with illustrations creeping across walls, up onto ceilings and wrapping around doors. The waterproof 'Dedado' wallpaper (right) by Wall & Decò adds instant artist merit (wallanddeco.com), as does the brand's 'Niveum' design (below right), which was used in a Palermo apartment by LYGA Studio (lyga.it). In a Brooklyn space by Home Studios, an under-the-stairs powder room (below left) is made special thanks to a pattern of hands and faces drawn by painter Kimmy Quillin (homestudios.nyc).

Painterly wallpapers and hand-painted murals are a sure-fire way to add personality
